

KOO YONG SPRING RETREAT

The Wisdom of LIVING SYSTEMS

Facilitation Skills for an Evolving World

Monday 20 - Tuesday 21 March 2017

Lilith Evolution Centre in Devon

We are living in a time of great environmental and social change. Everywhere the established order is giving way to the unknown, inviting us to develop new skills and approaches.

In this two-day experiential retreat we will draw on knowledge from the fields of team coaching, eco-constellations, ecology, storytelling, movement, and theatre to explore how an embodied understanding of systems and complexity can inform our work as coaches, facilitators, educators, parents and leaders.

Using this space to experience who we are as part of a living system we will deepen our facilitation skills, discover ways to align our personal mission with the natural and social ecology of our planet, and take our next steps towards co-creating a new, regenerative cultural story.

Cost: Full price 295

Early bird 265 (before 14 February)

FACILITATORS

Lilith Joanna Flanagan is founder of Evolution Coaching Academy. Her 1800 hours of coaching practice includes team coaching in schools, local communities and multinational corporations like IBM, Groupon and AVIVA. She combines systemic facilitation approaches such as ORSC, Mindells' Worldwork and TeamCoachingInternational with a passion for sound, entrainment and intuitive movement. She integrates this holistic approach with insights from her 10 years experience as a business leader for multinational corporations. She is an ICF Assessor and author of "Intuitive Coach" ICF Accredited Coach Training Program.

Inez Aponte is a storyteller, facilitator and community organiser. She is founder of Growing Good Lives where she designs and delivers training, coaching and events which challenge conventional notions of economic development and offer pathways for human thriving in balance with the Earth's ecology. With an arts and performance background she has been developing participatory learning processes since 1998 and has worked with a variety of clients from large NGO's to small businesses and local changemakers.

Denise Rowe is a dance and movement artist with over 15 years experience in creating and holding safe spaces for powerful transformation. Founder of the Earth Dances workshop programme, Denise is passionate about the power of dance and movement to unlock the potency of who we really are. An experienced facilitator, performer and solo artist, Denise's work is founded in embodied movement practice, movement in the landscape and pan-African dance forms.

Jenny MacKewn is a creative catalyst. She convenes pioneering programmes and generative events. She has recently launched an exciting Masters Programme in Leading Transformative Change; a Certificate in Leadership & Facilitation for Schumacher College; and an extended Focussed programme in Eco Coaching & Eco Constellations. She is a Director of Green Vision, a movement that supports teenagers, the leaders of tomorrow, to design, organise and facilitate events about issues that matter to them. She works as consultant, catalyst and coach across private, public and third sectors.
